

Boliden Rönnskär: Stakeholder Announcement – Copper Mark

Boliden Mineral AB, Rönnskär has officially started the process for reassessment to the sustainability mark The Copper Mark for the site in Skelleftehamn. The Copper Mark is a leading quality assurance system to promote responsible production practices in the metallic raw materials industry and covers environmental, social, and governance (ESG) criteria. As part of this commitment, Boliden Rönnskär will undergo an external, independent assessment from February 17 – February 20, 2026, to ensure that its operations meet the standards of Copper Mark

The site will be assessed in the following areas:

- Environmental protection and sustainable use of resources
- Responsible sourcing of raw materials • Human rights and labor rights
- Health and safety
- Community engagement and stakeholder involvement
- Business integrity and governance

Stakeholder Engagement

As part of the certification process, stakeholders are invited to engage with the appointed assessor and to provide any information they consider relevant to the assurance process. Your input will be valuable in helping to ensure a comprehensive and balanced assessment. Stakeholders may submit concerns or complaints related to Boliden's operations via our whistleblower reporting portal, accessible at <https://report.whistleb.com/en/boliden>. All submissions are handled confidentially and reviewed promptly
